KEEP UNKNOWNS VISIBLE

Check what is organized, not whether the work is protected or a use is permitted.

- [ ] One work and version have neutral labels
- [ ] Each component has a number and location reference
- [ ] Source descriptions are my account, not ownership findings
- [ ] Unknown and conflicting information stays visible
- [ ] Document references point to individual components
- [ ] Proposed uses remain questions for counsel
- [ ] Actual works and private facts stay outside this worksheet
- [ ] Requested work and engagement boundaries are separated

Component number / counsel's intake question / document-holder role / reply reference

Component number / still-unknown source or use detail / next private discussion

Consultation, document work or representation sought / scope reference / open boundary

Preparation only. Not legal advice, an ownership or permission finding, fair-use test, filing guide or representation. Keep actual works and private facts out.

QUESTIONS FOR COPYRIGHT COUNSEL

Record an explanation or private reply reference. Do not copy confidential legal advice here.

Experience: which work types and component histories does your team handle?

Intake: what conflicts check and private-sharing process comes first?

Records: which component sources, versions and existing documents need review?

Interpretation: how will you explain ownership and proposed-use questions?

Scope: which consultation, document work or representation is included or separate?

Follow-up: how are questions, fees, responsibilities and scope changes documented?

Preparation only. Not legal advice, an ownership or permission finding, fair-use test, filing guide or representation. Keep actual works and private facts out.

COMPARE THE SAME CONSULTATION

Use Lawyer A and B in every box. Compare the same work, version and requested professional role.

Lawyer A / B / conversation dates / shared work-version and component references

Relevant experience, record review, explanations and proposed deliverables - A / B

Included work, exclusions, private intake and follow-up responsibilities - A / B

Fees, expenses, written engagement terms and unresolved scope questions - A / B
