Official local program name and website from the directory

Current services and appointment arrangements to confirm with the program

CHECK THE BRIEF AND PRIVATE HANDOFF

Keep public navigation separate from private advice. Mark what is ready, then record open questions and follow-up ownership.

- [ ] Consultation goals are written without private case facts
- [ ] Dates are questions for verification, not calculated deadlines
- [ ] The statewide overview is an orientation source, not a process choice
- [ ] The local directory entry is not treated as a venue decision
- [ ] Current program services and appointment arrangements need confirmation
- [ ] Legal questions are reserved for an attorney
- [ ] Conflicts information and records will use an approved secure channel
- [ ] Scope, exclusions, billing and communication questions are prepared

Questions still open after checking the Florida statewide and local links

Private document categories to discuss through an attorney-approved channel

Next consultation step, follow-up owner and information still needed

Preparation only. Not legal advice, a form or process recommendation, filing guide, venue decision, deadline calculation, safety plan, or attorney-client relationship.

ASK A FLORIDA DIVORCE ATTORNEY

Use the same high-level outline with each attorney. Record explanations, not conclusions about your legal position.

Priorities: what private context and time-sensitive questions should we discuss?

Options: how will you assess the approaches and court questions that apply?

Florida resources: which local program is useful, and what needs your legal advice?

Role: what advice, negotiation, document work and representation are included?

Terms: how are conflicts, private records, fees, expenses and communication handled?

Follow-up: what is unresolved and what must happen before engagement?

Preparation only. Not legal advice, a form or process recommendation, filing guide, venue decision, deadline calculation, safety plan, or attorney-client relationship.

COMPARE ENGAGEMENTS ON THE SAME BASIS

Label alternatives A and B. Compare only after each attorney has reviewed the same private context.

Attorney A / B and consultation dates - use neutral labels

Experience, proposed role, included stages and exclusions - A / B

Secure handoff, communication and client responsibilities - A / B

Fee basis, expenses, changes, next steps and unanswered questions - A / B
