OREGON LAND SURVEYING / 01

START WITH OREGON'S THREE DESTINATIONS

OSBEELS lookup: professional details. OSBEELS FAQ: questions for the surveyor. County office: existing record sources.

A helpful preparation resource from PickYourPro.ai. Fill in digitally or print. Keep your completed copy private.

Project label / Oregon county / purpose of the professional conversation

OSBEELS lookup hub: date visited / professional reference kept privately

Lookup information recorded privately / unclear identity or status question

OSBEELS public FAQ: entry or owner/occupant question to ask the surveyor

County records office / official URL / who confirmed this is the right source

Question destination: Board, county office or private surveyor / why / unanswered

Preparation only. Not a survey, boundary or entry-right decision, map interpretation, notice, filing, permit or legal guide. Do not enter land, measure lines or disturb markers for this pack. Keep private records out.

TRACK SOURCES WITHOUT INTERPRETING MAPS

Lane County is an example, not statewide coverage. Confirm your county's official source with the office or surveyor.

County source: office or tool / official URL / date checked / confirmation needed

Record A: neutral label or title / source / version or date / question

Record B: neutral label or title / source / version or date / question

Missing or unclear record: what is unknown / who will investigate / next step

Existing record enquiry versus new survey work: provider's scope explanation

Private handoff: record categories / recipient role / receipt still to confirm

Preparation only. Not a survey, boundary or entry-right decision, map interpretation, notice, filing, permit or legal guide. Do not enter land, measure lines or disturb markers for this pack. Keep private records out.

ROUTE QUESTIONS TO THE RIGHT PLACE

Keep legal and technical conclusions for qualified professionals. Do not calculate notice or decide entry rights here.

- [ ] Oregon lookup, FAQ and county records are separate destinations
- [ ] Lookup date and unclear result questions are recorded
- [ ] Entry questions are for the professional, not self-interpretation
- [ ] County source is confirmed or explicitly marked unconfirmed
- [ ] Lane County examples are not treated as statewide services
- [ ] Existing records and new surveying work are distinguished
- [ ] Record sources, versions and missing items are organized
- [ ] Private handoff and unresolved questions are tracked

Entry or occupant-communication question / surveyor's explanation / open item

Record question / source or version at issue / professional review still needed

Scope or handoff change / responsible role / next discussion / response received

Preparation only. Not a survey, boundary or entry-right decision, map interpretation, notice, filing, permit or legal guide. Do not enter land, measure lines or disturb markers for this pack. Keep private records out.

QUESTIONS FOR THE OREGON SURVEYOR

Use the source-and-question log in your meeting. A record search or map view does not answer a boundary question.

Lookup: what details should I check, and who clarifies an unclear result?

Entry: which owner or occupant communication questions must we discuss?

County: which official record source is relevant and who researches it?

Scope: what is an existing-record enquiry versus new surveying work?

Handoff: how should versions, missing records and questions reach you privately?

Terms: which review, coordination, deliverables, fees and follow-up are included?

Preparation only. Not a survey, boundary or entry-right decision, map interpretation, notice, filing, permit or legal guide. Do not enter land, measure lines or disturb markers for this pack. Keep private records out.

COMPARE RECORD REVIEW AND HANDOFF

Use A and B for surveyors. Keep the same Oregon source questions visible in both proposals.

Surveyor A / B / dates / common project and county-source question list

Professional details to clarify, record research and entry-question review - A / B

Existing records versus new work, deliverables and private handoff - A / B

Open questions, exclusions, coordination, fees, timing and written terms - A / B
